Tonight's Dress Code:
Formal or Informal (optional)

AT SEA EN ROUTE TO SOUTHAMPTON

TIME CHANGE

Please be advised that at midday today the ship's clocks will be SET FORWARD BY ONE HOUR. Please set your watches FORWARD at noon today, Thursday, 15 October.

FROM THE NAVIGATOR

QUEEN MARY 2 will continue on her great circle course across the North Atlantic Ocean. Today we will pass to the south of Flemish Cap, before passing Milne Bank, a shallow of around 73 metres in the otherwise 3,500 metre deep ocean. The Milne Sea Mounts form part of the Mid-Atlantic Ridge.

SUNRISE AND SUNSET

Sunrise: 6.43am / Sunset: 6.17pm

NAUTICAL FACT OF THE DAY

The term 'mate' developed in merchant ships, to mean the officer next to the master who could deputise for him when necessary. Mates were part of the growing hierarchy of merchant service officers, chief mates, second mates, and so on down to junior fourth mates in ocean liners. While mate is the recognised term for a watch keeping officer and is used as such by the International Maritime Organisation to identify that position, most companies prefer to substitute the word mate for officer.

We receive many requests for visits to the bridge. Unfortunately for both security and operational reasons we are unable to accommodate these requests. However we do have a viewing area behind the bridge which can be accessed on Deck 12 via A Stairway on the port side. The viewing area is normally open on all sea days between 9.00am and 4.00pm. The area may be closed on some days for operational reasons. Photography and video cameras are prohibited, and we ask that you do not bring food and drink into the area. We also request that whilst in the viewing area you remain quiet. Thank you for your co-operation and enjoy the view.
